

Do you support creating a housing safety net to protect Canadians from the impacts of economic shock?

YES

Do you support developing a housing skills agenda for Canada that equips our workforce and empowers them to recruit skilled trade workers?

YES

Do you support initiatives to support first-time home buyers, like the Home Buyer's Plan (HBP) and the First-Time Home Buyer Incentive (FTHBI)?

YES

Do you support reviewing tax reforms to facilitate home building, for example, eliminating GST on all housing?

YES

Do you support streamlining permissions to facilitate home building?

UNDECIDED

Do you support creating resilient housing material supply chains that can withstand tariffs and trade barriers?

YES

Do you support the stimulation of housing supply by embracing innovation through offsite construction technologies, some of which include mass timber, panelization, and modular home construction?

YES

Ehab Mustapha
Mississauga—Erin Mills

Canada

OPTIONAL

Would you like to provide additional comments on the answers you have provided above?

I support speeding up approvals on federally owned land to get workers on site and homes built faster. However, I don't support blanket streamlining that could compromise safety or accountability. We need smart, targeted solutions that prioritize both speed and quality.

OPTIONAL

This last question gives you an opportunity to tell us more about your thoughts on housing. You decide what you would like us to share with our members.

It hit me deeply to hear the pain and frustration people are carrying when it comes to housing. While knocking on doors, one woman in her 40s told us she's still living with her parents because she simply cannot afford a place of her own. She said housing now costs four or five times more than it used to, while in her own words, "salaries didn't even flinch." That stuck with me. Canadians are struggling to build a life.

The homes being built today aren't designed to meet people's needs. Too many are small, overpriced condos that don't reflect real urban planning focused on density, infill, or services.

That's why I'm running. I'll fight for public investment in non-market housing built on public land, housing that stays affordable by design. I'll push for a ban on corporate landlords buying up homes and I'll support smart, community-focused planning.